Just in case you are wondering ----

WHAT IS THE “HOWLING WOLF SALOON”?

Just as in the old American West, saloons were in tents. Some simply set on creek banks, at a cross road, some at end of track on railroad construction, or around mining camps and in new towns. A couple of Whiskey barrels and a few planks was all that was needed to start. As the west grew, the saloon continued to be the center of social interaction for a cowboy, miner, business man or traveler, a social gathering point for entertainment, a place for the exchange of information, or a place to transact business.

The Howling Wolf Saloon is an Old West Style Saloon in a tent fashioned after the saloons of the Old West that is all about social activities. Tables to sit and rest, talk, play cards, or lots of other games, discuss your shooting prowess or just lie about how good or poorly you shot. The saloon music is Classic Country juke box, easy to just listen to or socialize. There is organized gambling with Texas Hold ‘Em every night. Poker, checkers, chess, backgammon or dominos anytime.

The Wolf is proud to continue its fine tradition of being the center for social activities and provide that Old West social atmosphere at this year’s “Shootout at 5 Dogs Creek”.

The Howling Wolf can not sell any food or beverages, so it is set up as a private party for the event shooters and their guests. You can obtain co-proprietorships good for the length of the event (3 days only $6.66/day, Thurs, Fri, Sat) for $20.00 prior to April 15, 2011, price goes up to $25 thereafter. Co-proprietors are entitled access to the saloon, gambling area, and to enjoy adult beverages, including well drinks, ice cold draft beer, a wine bar and the famous “Howling At the Moon Brandy” right from the barrel. We will be making margaritas, but no other fancy drinks, “this is a Cowboy bar, after all.” For a social proprietorship, there are diet and non-diet sodas, lemonade and of course, “Sasaparilla” for only $10.00 for the three days. There is no greater value anywhere.

But, if you just want to come and set around and talk all you need is your event badge.
